The Grand Jury charges:

INTRODUCTORY ALLEGATIONS

At times relevant to this Indictment:

1. The Export Control Reform Act of 2018 ("ECRA") provides, among its stated policy objectives, that "the national security and foreign policy of the United States require that the export, reexport, and in-country transfer of items, and specific activities

1 of United States persons, wherever located, be controlled”
2 50 U.S.C. § 4811. To that end, ECRA grants the President the
3 authority “(1) to control the export, reexport, and in-country
4 transfer of items subject to the jurisdiction of the United States,
5 whether by United States persons or by foreign persons; and (2) the 6 activities of United States persons, wherever located, relating to”
7 specific categories of items and information. 50 U.S.C. § 4812.
8 ECRA further grants the Secretary of Commerce the authority to 9 establish the applicable regulatory framework.

10 2. Pursuant to that authority, the Department of Commerce
11 (“DOC”) reviews and controls the export of certain items, including
12 goods, software, and technologies, from the United States to foreign 13 countries through the Export Administration Regulations (“EAR”), 14 15 C.F.R. §§ 730-774. In particular, the EAR restrict the export of 15 items that could make a significant contribution to the military 16 potential of other nations or that could be detrimental to the 17 foreign policy or national security of the United States. The EAR
18 impose licensing and other requirements for items subject to the EAR
19 to be lawfully exported from the United States or lawfully re-
20 exported from one foreign destination to another.

21 3. The most sensitive items subject to EAR controls are 22 identified on the Commerce Control List, or “CCL,” published at 23 15 C.F.R. part 774, Supp. No. 1. Items on the CCL are categorized by 24 Export Control Classification Number (“ECCN”), each of which has 25 export control requirements depending on destination, end use, and 26 end user.

27 4. Pursuant to ECRA, “[i]t shall be unlawful for a person to 28 violate, attempt to violate, conspire to violate, or cause a violation of this part or of any regulation, order, license, or other authorization issued under this part," and, "[a] person who willfully commits, willfully attempts to commit, or willfully conspires to commit, or aids or abets in the commission of, an unlawful act described in subsection (a) shall" be guilty of a crime. 50 U.S.C. § 4819.

5. The following items were seized on or about the dates listed below and were dual-use commercial goods controlled by the CCL for reasons of Firearms Convention, National Security, and Regional Stability, and all required a license for export to Mexico:
